

WHITMAN HERE FOR CONFERENCE SCRAP TONIGHT

Mc MINNVILLE EXCURSION DATE IS SET FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 24

Special Train Leaves Union Station; Rooters Will Accompany Team to Linfield Game; Price Is Lower Than in Former Years; Tags on Sale Wednesday, Thursday and Friday

McMinville is the destination of the special train which has been chartered for the annual football excursion. The game which is to be played with Linfield is scheduled for 2:00 Saturday afternoon. Tickets for the special which will leave the Union Station at 6:00 Saturday morning may be purchased Wednesday, Thursday and Friday forenoons in Jones Hall. A special price for the trip has been made by the Northern Pacific Railway.

Tags Are $4.75

Tags will be sold to the students, the price of each being $4.75. These may be exchanged later for tickets. With their student body tickets students will be admitted to the game for 25 cents. However, unless 150 people purchase tags, the trip cannot be made for this price. Last year 190 accompanied the team to Salem, Oregon, and in 1929 nearly 300 went to Portland. Only those students and members of the faculty who made these excursions know what a lively experience awaits them.

There are to be several coaches including a baggage and observation car. As the train passes through small towns the rooters with school songs and yells will attempt to compete with the ringing of "Betsy." Even the much respected faculty loses its dignity by parading up and down in the aisles of cars and adding to the singing and shouting. Some of the more enthusiastic persons attempt to dance in the baggage car while others play cards. The band is always ready to perform.

The Spurs will again be vendors of peanuts, gum, candy, hot dogs and beer through the coaches. Many will bring their own lunches. A 40 minute stop in Portland is planned which will give everyone a chance to see the city and to buy their dinner if so desired. The stay in McMinville is to be about four hours, leaving six hours traveling time each way. The train will return to Tacoma at 11:30 Saturday night.

"Every one must get behind this plan to go in order to put it over," said Bob Strobel, pep manager who is making plans for this excursion.

Swimming Classes For Life Savers

The first swimming class for women athletes aspiring to be life savers, was held Monday, October 12, at 1:30 P. M. in the Y. W. C. A. pool, with Miss Fernina Collins, women's physical educational director, in charge.

As this was the beginning of the course in life saving work, endurance swimming, along with diving and surface diving, was stressed. Also fundamentals of the simpler approaches were demonstrated and practiced.

Those girls who appeared at the pool Monday for the course included Winifred Holm, Jane Porter, Esther Power, Elizabeth Gookins, Anne North, Virginia Bigelow, Arlene Elsbree, Marjorie Johnson, Marion Ray, Dorothy Nadeau and Martha Allemen.

Chemistry Classes Get New Equipment

The physical chemistry department has just received a vacuum pump, a capillary electrometer and a Kretschmometer.

This department is much larger than it has ever been before, it has been divided into three sections in order to work in the laboratory room conveniently.

The industrial chemistry department has a Carter press, a Chipmunk ore-crusher, a Sartorius balance, a three-kilogram pulp balance and a ball mill.

There is a total of eleven chemical balances for quantitative work and seven for freshman work.

Goss Appoints Miss Johnson As Secretary

Zehnder Is New Debate Manager; Appointments Temporary

Georgia Johnson, senior, was appointed by Wilbur Goss, Wednesday, to fill the office of secretary of the A. S. C. P. S. She replaces Mary Frances LePenske, who has been forced to withdraw from school because of illness.

Dick Zehnder received the position of debate manager to fill the vacancy left by James Owens, who did not return this year. Both of these are temporary appointments, and will be approved by Central Board next Monday.

Standard Oil Co. Furnishes Loud Speaker at Game

Robert Gander Heads Committee for Dads' Program in Stadium Bowl

That the Standard Oil Company's travelling broadcasting machine will be brought to Tacoma for the Whitman game tonight was the announcement made by Robert Gander who is in charge of the Dads' Nite program at the game.

"The Standard Oil Company is making special efforts to get the machine here," he stated. "This will make it possible for every one at the game to hear what is going on."

According to Mr. Gander, all the civic clubs of Tacoma have given fine support to the Dads' Nite program, and a record crowd is expected to turn out for the game. The file and drum corps of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will provide music.

"I wish to express my appreciation to the students of the college and to the business men for the excellent support they have given me in this enterprise," stated Mr. Gander. "The committee has worked well, and the program, although it is being kept secret, will surely be good. We hope to give the college dads of the future something to live up to in this program."

Don Moyle Gives Trail Special Story Pacific Flyer Describes Exciting Trip

The following story was written especially for The Trail following a private interview with Don Moyle, Pacific flyer, who was fated along with Cecil Allen, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon last week in Tacoma.

By Lois Twaddle

"The Bering Sea is not so hot. They don't even have the meridians marked," said Don Moyle in telling about the thrills he and Cecil Allen found on their attempt to fly the Pacific Ocean. Although they were forced down after 35 hours in the air, on a small island which appeared through a hole in the fog, and it was a tense moment when Moyle bounced the "Clasina Madge" off the tiny improvised landing field on the beach, he calls the greatest thrill of the whole trip the discovery of a small Siberian village where they could refuel.

It was the first plane most of the natives had seen, and only through luck were they able to find a Korean boy who knew some English. The boots they were supplied with seemed at first a back-handed compliment because they are enormous, but the men explained that the Russians wear rags wrapped around their feet instead of socks. The high-necked tunics are certainly flattering to an aviator's style of beauty, however.

Mr. Moyle has a string of stories that would make a fascinating book, that he could get them written in his if he could get them written in his own terse but appealing style. He is supremely self-confident, and can set a plane down anywhere he de-

NOISY PARADERS DISPLAY SPIRIT IN NIGHT RALLY

C. P. S. book-worms have turned. The college men and women showed the largest display of pep ever generated by the student body at a night shirt parade, last night. The parade was held to advertise and arouse pep for the Whitman game.

The students met in front of the Tacoma Ledger office arrayed in fragments of what once were probably the latest in night attire, and marched down to the Rialto Theatre where they stopped the show to give yells. From there the parade, under the direction of the yell kings, riotously visited the RKO, Riviera, and Blue Mouse theatres.

They then congregated at the intersection on ninth and Broadway where another display of pep was shown. The Goodrich Silverton Tire Company Inc. at 21st and Pacific Avenue gave the use of their building to the students where a half hour radio program was broadcast over station KVI from 10:00 to 10:30 p. m.

Today, the first four periods were shortened and chapel followed. Immediately after, 40 cars furnished by the Gyo Club will transport students of the college to the outlying districts of the city and through the business section. The band will be on a truck and "Betsy" will accompany the parade. Pep and plenty of it. That's what the people of Tacoma wanted, and now they have it.

Publish Plans Of Homecoming

Plans for the annual Alumni Homecoming to be held on October 31, are in the charge of Bob Strobel, pep manager. Among the features of the program will be the yearly bonfire, and parade through the business district. A new custom inaugurated last year is the vaudeville held after the show which the students attend in a body. The football game against Willamette will take place Saturday afternoon. An all-college dance on Saturday evening will conclude the Homecoming program.

Following the bonfire on Friday night everyone will go in cars through town, then congregate at ninth and Broadway for group yells. After which the students will attend the R. K. O. in a body.

"It is essential that everyone should buy his tickets beforehand at school," said Mr. Strobel. "The student body will receive 25 per cent of all advance sales. The price is the same whether the tickets are purchased ahead of time or not."

President Todd In Conferences

Outlook Promising Concerning Rockefeller Fund

Bursar Charles Robbins received a telegram yesterday from President Todd concerning his conferences with the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, regarding the C. P. S. endowment report. Although there is no definite word, the outlook is very promising. Every conference has been satisfactory, according to the latest communication from Dr. Todd. From New York he is going to Atlanta for several days, after which he will probably return to New York. He plans to return home by way of the Panama Canal.

Professor Bennett Gathers Mushrooms

Evidence that the depression is still with us could be seen by anyone on the college campus Wednesday night. A mysterious figure in a long coat, with a soft hat pulled low over his eyes, was wandering over the grounds. In his hand he carried a large paper bag, and every few moments he would drop something into it that he picked up off the ground.

Creeping up, a would-be Sherlock Holmes discovered that the phantom was none other than Professor John Paul Bennett, gathering mushrooms.

Does mushroom soup appeal to the musical taste to such an extent that even college professors must hunt them at night on the campus?

House Grades For Semester Are Announced

Sigma Mu Chi Takes Scholarship Cup Six Times Out of Seven

That Sigma Mu Chi fraternity received the highest group scholarship average among the fraternities last semester was the announcement received from the registrar's office today. This entitles the group to hold the Faculty Men's Scholarship Trophy again this semester, for six out of the seven times it has been offered.

Lambda Sigma Chi has the highest average among the sororities for last semester, but the Blanche W. Stevens Scholarship Cup for sororities is only awarded in the spring, for the year's average. Kappa Sigma Theta now holds the cup.

The fraternity scholarship award will be made Monday in chapel by Dean Raymond G. Drewry.

The trophy is a perpetual one awarded each semester to the fraternity with the highest average, the winner holding the cup until it is won by another group. The sorority cup was the gift of Miss Blanche W. Stevens and is held by the group making the highest scholarship average during each year, to become the permanent possession of the group winning it three successive times.

Emily Nightingale and Rod Menzies were the two students to have their names engraved on the President's Scholarship Trophy cup, both having straight A averages for last year.

The averages of the fraternities and sororities, with the total number of hours carried by each group, follows:

| Sororities | Hours | Average |
|--------------------|---------|---------|
| Lambda Sigma Chi | 592 1/2 | 1.646 |
| Kappa Sigma Theta | 569 | 1.641 |
| Alpha Beta Upsilon | 333 1/2 | 1.476 |
| Delta Alpha Gamma | 332 | 1.421 |
| Fraternities | | |
| Sigma Mu Chi | 405 1/2 | 1.578 |
| Delta Pi Omicron | 393 1/2 | 1.485 |
| Delta Kappa Phi | 492 1/2 | 1.421 |
| Sigma Zeta Epsilon | 619 1/2 | 1.341 |
| Alpha Chi Nu | 661 1/2 | 1.176 |

MASS. TECH. MAN WILL VISIT HERE

Doctor James I. Tryon, director of admissions at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is making a tour of the Western States during the coming months to assist any students who may be planning on entering the Institute within the next year.

Doctor Tryon makes these tours periodically and endeavors when possible to get a personal contact with some member of the faculty who may be able to help him. He expects to be at the College of Puget Sound, November 4.

LOGGERS WILL SEEK TO AVENGE 1930 DEFEAT IN CRUCIAL GAME

Missionaries Favored to Win Over C. P. S.; Puget Sound Defense Will Concentrate on Applegate; Kickoff Is Scheduled for 7:15 in the Stadium Bowl; Injury Keeping Slatter Out

Led by that dynamic little quarterback, Buddy Applegate, the powerful Missionary eleven of Whitman College will invade the Stadium Bowl tonight to renew annual football hostilities with the College of Puget Sound in what is considered the most crucial game of the year for the Loggers. The kickoff is scheduled for 7:15.

Applegate, who captains the Whitman aggregation, is the "spark plug" of the Missionary machine and is considered the most dangerous offensive man in the entire Northwest Conference.

Famous Fliers Visit on Campus

Pangborn and Herndon Visit C. P. S. Friday

Hugh Herndon and Clyde Pangborn, world famous trans-Pacific fliers, included C. P. S. in their tour of Tacoma last Friday. In the party were Don Moyle and Cecil Allen who made a heroic but unsuccessful attempt to span the Pacific Ocean in John Buffelen's ill-fated plane.

While the student body awaited the arrival of the fliers in the chapel, yells were practised and pep talks given in preparation for the Idaho game.

Shortly before the fliers arrived the students assembled in front of Jones Hall, above the Sutton Quadrangle. After a short wait the famous aviators appeared, escorted by motor-cycle policemen and followed by a parade of admirers. The entourage paused briefly, the fliers smiled, nodded and waved, and then passed on amid the cheers of the student body.

Disarmament Is Chosen as Topic

Marion James, president of the Carnegie International Relations Club, explained the purpose of the club Monday evening and said that the subject of the year's discussions would be "Disarmament." Miss Marjorie Dilley, faculty adviser, announced that Herr Fischer, international railroad expert sent here by the Carnegie Foundation, would be a guest of the club on November 9.

"Since Mussolini has come into power, Italy has been thoroughly cleaned—but, in my estimation, it really is not as nice as it was before," declared Miss Helen Evans in her address to the organization.

The subject of Miss Evans' talk was "My Impressions of the Human Side of International Relations." In it she stressed the attitude of the various European countries toward each other, and their hostile reaction toward the United States.

TODD WILL HEAD NEW LOVE CLINIC

Northwestern University of Evanston, Illinois, is going to open a love clinic, with branches in both Evanston and Chicago.

Couples contemplating marriage may take their troubles to the clinic and get a "stop" or "go" signal from experts.

Couples already married and wondering if they made a mistake will be given advice.

Prof. Arthur J. Todd, head of the department of sociology, will direct the clinic, the purposes of which will be to make folks happier and enable Professor Todd and his associates to gather a greater collection of facts to enrich the sciences of psychology, sociology and economics.

BROWN TEACHES NURSES

Thirty-nine nurses from a local hospital meet every Friday afternoon in Science Hall for a lecture and laboratory work.

Harry Brown, a senior majoring in chemistry, is the instructor.

For three years he has been a thorn in the Loggers' side and will undoubtedly carry the brunt of the Whitman offensive power in this game. His ability at passing, kicking and open field running is nothing short of sensational and the Loggers chances for a win depend on their ability to stop him.

The Loggers are set to do just that thing. Coach Roy Sandberg has devoted the past week to ironing out the weaknesses that developed during the game with the College of Idaho. In addition to that the Loggers have worked intensively on a defense to be used against Whitman.

Slatter Is Out

The Lumberjacks were given a severe set-back with the announcement that Slatter, first string tackle, will definitely be out of the game due to a foot injury received in the game against the U. S. S. New York. Ed Mura will undoubtedly fill the gap left by Slatter with Yenter held in reserve.

Except for Slatter the entire squad is in top shape for the battle, according to Coach Sandberg.

Jimmy Ennis, halfback, will carry the hopes of the local squad for crossing the Whitman goal line. He is to the Loggers what Applegate is to Whitman—a fast, powerful, open field runner. In previous games Ennis has proven his worth as a ball packer and has time and again thrilled the fans by his long, sweeping runs.

Sterling, quarterback, will carry the responsibility of calling the plays while Baker and Newell will more than likely handle the jobs of fullback and half respectively.

Loggers Outweighed

The Loggers will be outweighed by the Missionaries, especially in the line. Five of Coach "Nig" Borleske's eight veterans are filling line positions, while the other two are transfers from normal schools. This gives the Missionaries a decided advantage. (Continued on Page Three)

JACOBSON PLAYS PRELUDE CONCERT

Leonard Jacobson, of the Conservatory of Music, is becoming increasingly popular with the music lovers of Tacoma. Sunday night he will play a Prelude concert at the Mason Methodist Church. On Monday Mr. Jacobson will play several numbers before the Aloha Club, and on Tuesday he will be heard on the air over KMO in a complimentary program for the Community Chest.

his flying with selling washing machines.

Moyle predicts that the next year will see a non-stop flight around the world—by refueling, of course. Looking farther into the future, he hazards that if rocket planes are perfected they will revolutionize aviation, by cutting down a plane's weight. But his biggest interest right now is the trans-Pacific air lane.

Moyle and Allen had to take a back seat at the luncheon for Pangborn and Herndon Friday, but R. Kimura and I. Okozaki, the representatives of the Tokio and Osaka Asahi newspapers, stated that though they were glad to present the $25,000 to the successful fliers, they were promoting the flight for better understanding and relations between U. S. and Japan and to promote aviation, and that all four men had accomplished this.

Then there was the absent-minded musician who blew his nose and wiped his piccolo.

TYPICAL GIRL WINS FURTHER HONORS

Helen Jeanette Brenton, former College of Puget Sound student gained a new honor, when a picture of her was termed "100 per cent perfect" at an international photographers' exhibit at Vancouver, B. C. this month. Miss Brenton as the subject, was also judged 100 per cent perfect. This picture of her, taken by J. Barton Holyer of the Mezzo studio was chosen as one of 50 to make up a traveling exhibit which will be displayed throughout the country. Last year a similar picture of her won the same rating.

Two years ago Miss Brenton won the place of the Pacific Northwest's most typical American girl. At a recent writers' convention held in Vancouver last summer she was one of the main speakers. Early this fall she gave a series of talks over KMO on the history of the Northwest.

At the present time she is attending the University of Washington, where she is a senior.

Sorority Girls Feted at Tea

Anniversary Year Opened With Alumnae Affair

To mark the 10th anniversary year of their group, Lambda Sigma Chi sorority enjoyed tea in the English mode Saturday when the alumnae members entertained the active chapter girls at the home of Mrs. John Ward. Calling hours were from 4 until 7 p. m. and the rooms were most attractive with baskets of gaily tinted autumn leaves and October flowers. Candles furnished glowing light in the darkened rooms.

Miss Grace Eddy, the alumnae president, presented Mrs. F. E. Kirkland in songs, accompanied by Miss Lona Potuck. Novelty dances in groups of two girls and three small boys were followed by violin solos played by Franklin Johnson, accompanied by Miss Grace Johnson. His selections were Kreisler's "Schonmorn" and "Liebsiedel." Miss Martha Ann Wilson talked on contemporary poetry.

Supper was served with Mrs. Lyle Ford Drushel and Mrs. Kirkland presiding over the tea and coffee service. Autumn flowers with tall lighted candles carried the sorority colors mongol and silver.

Alumnae officers include the Misses Grace Eddy, Ethel Schuster and Grace Van Vechten. On the tea committee were Miss Betty Totten, Thelma Bestler, Elisabeth Jones, Mrs. David Rice and Mrs. Morton Johnson.

 year in experience as only two of the year's lettermen are playing on the local squad.
 Although the Whitman backfield is light, they are considered exceptionally fast.
 Ablely assisting Applegate in the backfield positions will be Paul Anderson, who entered Whitman from Stadium High School. He is considered very fast at the halfback position, being a good passer, receiver and a hard blocker.
 Louderback is playing his fourth year for Whitman. He is the heaviest man in the backfield and has been used as the battering ram for that combination.
 Wooten holds down the other half and shares equal honor with his teammates for ball packing ability.
Whitman Favored
 Last year the Missionaries trounced C. P. S. 40-0. Pre-game dope was to the Eastern Washington team for making it two in a row, but by a much smaller score.
 Thus far this season the Whitman aggregation has had some tough going, losing three games, one of them a purely practice affair with the Washington State College eleven, another to the University of Idaho, 32 to 7, and still another to the College of the Pacific, 7 to 0. The one game the Missionaries came out of with a victory was the contest with Albany College team, conditional member of the Northwest Conference for a year.

The Loggers have won three non-conference games and dropped one to the College of Idaho in the race for conference honors. Should the Loggers win this game they will still be potential contenders for the championship.

Good officiating is assured for the game, as the Logger athletic heads have obtained Abe Cohn, Seattle, as referee; George M. Varnell, official in a number of Pacific Coast Conference games, as umpire and William H. "Heinie" Slek, first team basketball and intermediate football coach at Lincoln High School, as head linesman.

The tentative lineups for the two teams are as follows:

LOGGERS TAKE FIRST DEFEAT FROM COYOTES

College of Idaho Wins by Forward Pass in Last Quarter of Game

The College of Idaho Coyotes last Friday evening upset the dope to turn in a 7 to 0 win over a strong Puget Sound Logger eleven. Although they completely outplayed their opponents, gaining 14 first downs to 8 for their rivals, the locals were unable to score. The tussle was the first attempt for C. P. S. against a Northwest Conference eleven during the current season.

For three quarters Coach Roy Sandberg's men managed to keep their goal line uncrossed and to play their opponents off their feet. Several times they made dangerous threats to score but lacked the necessary punch to put the oval over. On three occasions they were on Idaho's 15-yard line.

It was not until the final quarter that the Coyotes were able to dig their cleats in the Puget Sound scoring territory. A beautiful 40-yard run by Wilson, left halfback, brought the six points that proved the margin of victory for Idaho. The try-for-point was successful.

Following this score, the Maroon and White launched a determined passing attack against their foes but their efforts were futile, only three of the passes being completed.

For C. P. S., Gagnon, Pettibone, Mura and Warwick played exceptional games although the other linemen were fighting hard during entire time in which they played. Every man in the backfield performed well, with Jimmy Ennis doing the most consistent gaining. For Idaho, Carlson, Hudgens, Brown and Wilson contributed most toward the Coyote victory.

The defeat has in no way lessened the respect that other conference teams have for the Loggers as the College of Idaho always puts out a strong grid eleven. The encounter was a good preparation for the important tilt this evening with Whitman College.

fiance last Sunday afternoon, we noticed three different trios of college co-eds wending their way around the five-mile drive. Now we know where the co-eds go on Sunday afternoons.

Running, falling, tripping, stumbling, hopping and jumping. These words best describe our women athletes practicing on the football field every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Miss Collins, women's athletic director, has her hands full on Monday afternoons, rescuing college co-eds at the Y. W. C. A. swimming tank. And it's a Life Saving Class at that.

The toughest and hardest game of the season has arrived. Whitman College, one of last year's conference leaders, again boasts one of the strongest teams. SEVERAL OF THEIR MEN ARE PLAYING THEIR FOURTH YEAR OF CONFERENCE BALL! One of the outstanding veterans is "Buddy" Applegate, almost as well known in Tacoma as in Walla Walla. APPLEGATE HAS NEVER YET FAILED TO FLASH BEFORE LOCAL FANS. He can run, pass and kick equally well, and is a great defensive player. Incidentally, he was captain and quarterback of his team last year. As long as Whitman produces all-around athletes of Applegate's calibre, other conference schools may be sure of one thing—THEY'VE GOT TO BE GOOD to get by with a WIN!

C. P. S. is assured of another smoker. Dick Link has charge of the program and announces that a real main event and semi-final have already been lined up. Several other men have signed up for the card and are turning out regularly. Any other boxers who intend to turn out should see Link soon if they expect a place on the card.

C. P. S. Seconds Score Win Over Bellarmine Hi

Gibson, Powers and Hansen Star as Logger Reserves Down Bellarmine

The Logger reserves, in their first game of the season, turned in an impressive 25-7 victory over Bellarmine High School. The game was played on the Bellarmine field Wednesday afternoon.

Puget Sound's first score came after a series of first downs and was made by Nelson through the center of the line. Gibson converted for the extra point.

Bellarmine's first score came after McMahon, Bellarmine half, intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards to the Maroon and White 10-yard line. Hazen carried the ball over on the next play and also converted the try for point.

The locals' next score came after a 25-yard pass, Gibson to Rawlings. The try for point failed.

Gibson, reserve fullback, made the next two touchdowns after a series of line plays.

The game was in reality just a practice for both teams, marking the first scrimmage of the season for the locals.

Gibson, Powers and Hansen starred for C. P. S. Shaw, McMahon and Hazen showed up well for Bellarmine.

ENDOWMENT

Newcomers at the College of Puget Sound may think the enthusiasm over the Howarth bequest and the possible success of the Rockefeller Foundation endowment unnecessary.
But others—upperclassmen, professors, trustees—read, in the present good fortune, their answer to several years of prayerful hope and waiting.

The outlook was frankly gloomy as the date for settlement with the Rockefeller board drew nearer and nearer. The financial depression, serious everywhere, made itself felt especially to those in charge of the endowment drive. Although citizens of Tacoma and nearby communities were eager to give a full measure of assistance to C. P. S., actual cash was lacking. Then there were those few who had heard the word "endowment" in connection with this institution until it presented an unwelcome connotation. From the start the present drive has been a discouraging fight. To President Todd and his faithful co-workers must go the deep gratitude of students and friends of the college who benefit from each step in the growth of the school.

In all truth, the Howarth fund is a God-send to us. As never before the civic clubs have worked to secure this $150,- 000 for the local college. Now we have this addition to the funds of the school, as soon as a number of legal technicalities can be settled. No definite announcement has been made yet regarding the outcome of the Rockefeller Foundation offer. Dr. Todd is in the East at the present time in an effort to have the Howarth sum included in the funds raised locally to meet the Rockefeller proposition. The result of his trip will have a great effect on C. P. S. We eagerly await his return.

—D. H. C.

There are two types of "yes men." One type says yes to everything the majority wants because the majority wants it. The other type gives his approval to everything that the minority wants for no other reason than that it is a minority proposal. Neither type is particularly desirable.

—Phreno Cosmian.

INTERNATIONAL GLASS HOUSES

The League of Nations has appealed to the United States government to intervene in the critical situation between China and Japan. So far we have allowed ourselves to seem willing to again be the chastising parent among the nations. And most of the other world powers are joining in a general criticism of Japan's attitude.

While we are telling our Oriental neighbors how to manage their affairs, let us not forget that we have Nicaragua, that England has India, France has Morocco, Belgium has the Congo—Oh, yes, its easy to criticize our Japanese friends, but people in glass houses—

—D. H. C.

Our depression has one value at least, in that it provides an excuse for everyone to air his private peeve, regardless of whether it may have any bearing on the situation or not.

mines of northeastern Washington have also been promised by Walter will arrive the first of next week.

Two Years Ago

(From The Trail for Oct. 18, 1929)
The board of trustees have planned two endowment fund drives.
The success of these drives will enable the college to offer work in religious education and to found a new department of physical education.

The Men's Glee Club have just completed plans for a tour of eastern Washington. Two concerts and a theater program are to be given every day for 10 days.

Margaret Swanson was chosen vice president of the A. S. C. P. S.
Bob Young, yell king and Albert Hotchkiss, editor of The Trail in the special elections held last Thursday.

E. L. Blaine of Seattle who has been a trustee of the college for nearly 20 years, was re-elected chairman of the board of trustees this week.

An interesting talk on "Aviation" was given last Wednesday during chapel period by General Robert

U. S. C. Gets Band For Student Body

When Hal Grayson's orchestra played in Royce Hall, University of Southern California, last Monday, it marked the twenty-third major entertainment produced under the auspices of the present regime of the California Arrangements Committee.

The coming program will be the first of a series of ten entertainments to be put forth this year for the student body. Arrangements are being made to bring leading stage and screen performers to the University as well as other orchestras, according to Fred Harris, chairman of the committee.

Into the orchestra Grayson brought a trio and members of the floor show at the Roosevelt to entertain the students.

Among the orchestras to play here in the past are Waring's Pennsyl-vanians, Gus Arnheim's orchestra, and those of Abe Lyman, Horace Height, and George Olsen.

Many moving picture stars have graced the auditorium stage, continued Harris, among them Bebe Daniels, Perry Askam, John Boles, and the Spanish star, Armida.

These programs are being established for the enjoyment of the student body, and in order to give the students what they want, the Arrangements Committee has established a policy by which suggestions for the entertainments will come from the members of the University.

Two Good Shows

You will want to see William Haines, that young man of many surprises who will blossom forth at the Sunset Theater today and tomorrow in "Just A Gigolo." He appears as a young English nobleman for whom a marriage of convenience has been arranged. He has flirted with so many women that he doesn't trust any of them, and resolves to test the future bride. So he poses as a gigolo in a European summer resort, and future bride. Amid the comedy situations is a charming love story and and furious. A chance for some really fine dramatic acting by the star and others.

In contrast to "Just A Gigolo" comes "The Common Law," Sunday. to the theater. The story was adapted from the book by Robert W.
Chambers. Although the novel was published 20 years ago, the picture is daintily modern. At the same time it retains the qualities which have caused the popularity of the story to endure for two decades. Constance Bennett is supported by an unusual cast. There is no doubt that the Sunset Theater is offering over the week-end two pictures that will be of high interest to all collegiates and co-eds.—R. Moline.

"The Road to Singapore"

"The Road to Singapore," adapted for the screen from the play by Roland Pertwee and J. Brubb, leaves one with a vivid picture of what your ideal Don Juan, or your dream girl, should look like. The modern Don Juan is portrayed by the screen's most polished actor, William Powell, and the dream girl by the beautiful blond, Doris Kenyon.

The theme, of a neglected wife who seeks love from another, is by no means new, yet it is never old. It is very probable that all who see the rather exotic and terrible tropical version of the theme contained in "The Road to Singapore," will agree with me that the theme has again scored in a tremendous story.

Your sympathy will go to the wife of the young English doctor who, sadly neglected, falls in love with the charming and attractive Don Juan. "The Road to Singapore" could have been just another celluloid account of a thick-headed husband and a beautiful wife, with the scene laid in the tropics instead of in a drawing room. But it is much more than that. The finished dramatic scenes, dealing in an unusual way with emotional episodes, brings this picture above the average.

If you are one of those who cherish romance—and all youth does—go to the Blue Mouse and see that most finished of actors, William Powell.
—R. Moline.

Two New Books

The critic went investigating this week and found two new books of deep interest.

The first volume, "The Marks of an Educated Man," is written by Albert Edward Wiggam. He has selected several characteristics of an educated man and discusses them tersely and brilliantly. A few of these subjects deserve special mention: an educated man cultivates the open mind, always listens to the man who knows, knows the secret of getting along with other people; cultivates the habit of success, keeps busy at his highest natural level, and never loses faith in the man he might have been.

The book commands interest not only because of its well-thought-out ideas but also for the very evident sincerity of the author.

The other book is written by the well-known philosopher, Bertrand Russell. Of the two, the latter book will probably enjoy the greater popularity. Mr. Russell has called his latest publication, "The Scientific Outlook." The title is infinitely more frightening than the contents. The author delights in putting unusual ideas in unusually sparkling phrases.
"The Scientific Outlook" discusses everything discussable in the modern world that has even a remote resemblance to being scientific. Surprising interjections of satire and wit make an appeal to the reader that can not be denied.
